

Are you breastfeeding welcome yet?

We recognise a mother's right to breastfeed

This simple checklist helps you to know when you are breastfeeding welcome. If you can tick all the boxes below then you can register to join the scheme. Let us know and we'll send your certificate, display signage and stickers and we will add your premises to the list of breastfeeding welcome places on our website.

If you're not yet ticking all the boxes but would like to become breastfeeding welcome, there is more information in our guide 'Becoming Breastfeeding Welcome' available at www.breastfeedingwelcomescheme.org.uk

The Breastfeeding Welcome venue checklist

- Babies can be breastfed in any public area of our venue
- We have adopted the sample breastfeeding policy as a minimum standard
- Our staff are all aware of how to implement our breastfeeding policy
- We will display the charter and sticker that tells visitors we are breastfeeding welcome
- We have a welcoming atmosphere
- We understand that some women prefer privacy when breastfeeding and we will do all we can to help them
